

Don't Be Mad if I Don't Look: Accommodating HoH Consumers

January 29 6p-9p EST & January 30 9a-12p EST
Online via Zoom

Presented by Corey Axelrod

Target Audience: Working interpreters with some prior knowledge of the topic

This interactive workshop explores the various challenges Hard of Hearing consumers face on a daily basis in today's society and how interpreters can best adapt to provide support. During this workshop, Corey Axelrod – 2axend's founder and CEO – will deliver unique insight and impact enabling interpreters to better understand the perceptions and realities of interpreting for a consumer base with a wide range of needs.

Audiences will leave this workshop with:

- An understanding of the cultural identity and communication challenges issues Hard of Hearing individuals face
- An understanding of the perceived audiological differences between Deaf and Hard of Hearing individuals
- Tools and strategies to support Hard of Hearing consumers' unique communication needs
- Tips for working effectively with your team (e.g., teachers, employers, CART/Typewell writers and agencies)

Participants, upon attending the workshop, should be able to:

- Identify five most unique audiological and cultural differences between deaf and hard of hearing consumers;
- Identify five communication challenges hard of hearing individuals face; and
- List five various tools and strategies to use to support Hard of Hearing consumers' unique communication needs
